

Titan Swivel REZ - 22"

TESTIMONIALS

" We have family that visit and quickly learn how to move the chair allowing them to be part of the care of their loved ones. We also had a husband who lived at our facility that quickly learned how to seat his wife, glide her forward then seat himself. This enabled him to care for his wife, be safe and ensure she was comfortable at the dining room table. "

" This chair has been a life-saver. We actually have four of them. My husband has progressive Parkinson's Disease and needs 24-hour assistance. We could not find a chair that would fit his needs. An office chair with wheels was not an option because it flew off whenever he was rising or sitting down. To turn a regular chair away from the table, it had to be lifted with him in it. With the stiffness caused by his illness, he could not help, thus the chair was dragged and quite a number of chairs got broken (along with the floor being damaged.) After days of online research I came across your chair. It has been life-altering. I have recommended this chair to so many people who are afflicted the same way he is. "

" The chair is very sturdy. My husband has PSP and lacks balance. He has knocked over other chairs. So far this one has been great. I am so glad that we got the chair that swivels. He can back his walker up to the chair, sit down, and then turn the chair ninety degrees to face the table. The wheels make it easy to push him up close to the table. "

" We purchased this chair for my mom with Alzheimer's. She has limited mobility so the chair issue for meals had become a wrestling match. The new mobility assist chair is a dream come true. The ease of movement, of course, is a blessing but the swivel seat is actually the best part for us. Easy to clean and maintain. Worth every penny from a caregivers standpoint. "

" All is going well and we are all enjoying the Titan Swivel REZ-22". It surely does make life a little easier as far as meal time is concerned. "
